DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102/103(a) as being unpatentable over Hyodo et al. (US 6,066,938). The reference discloses a battery 5 for a power tool 1 having coupling unit (not numbered) is provided to charge the battery without removing the battery from the tool. See figure 1 and columns 3 and 4. It is however silent on the type of battery as defined by Applicant (replaceable rechargeable battery). It does provide a way to remove the battery from the power tool by way of the cover 6. Hence it does meet Applicant's definition of 'replaceable.' In arguendo, it would have been obvious to have the battery be replaceable since over time, the battery will deteriorate and it needs to be 'replaced.'

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 10/17/07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's argument to the term "replaceable" is not convincing since all battery, sooner or later, would need to be discarded and replaced. The reference takes it into account by provide a cover 6 for such a replaceable battery. However, the Examiner did revamp his rejection to have the claims rejected under 102/103 scenerio.
